Paper Submission Guidelines

Aims and Scope

Islamic Sciences is a double-blind peer-reviewed and open access multilingual (Arabic, Urdu and English) research journal, published by Society for Social Sciences and Research Association.

The journal publishes research papers, reviews and case studies, including but not limited to the following fields:

Islamic philosophy, Islamic ethics, Islamic society, Islamic law, Islam and contemporary religions, Islam and science, education and training in Islam, rights and responsibilities in Islam, science of Hadith, life of the Prophet Muhammad (Peace be Upon him), Holy Quran and its understanding, Islamic jurisprudence, Muslim scholars, Islamic banking and finance, Islamic economic, Political system in Islam, Islam in modern world, Islamic concept of psychology and Human rights in Islam.

Preparing Manuscript

Manuscripts should be typed in MS-Word. Text may be limited to 3000 to 12000 words. With font size 12-point, font style 'Times New Roman', A4 Paper size and references should have numbered consecutively throughout and appear as endnotes in Chicago manual style except author name, mention first name first and last name in the last. For example, 'Muhammad Ahmad' where first name is (Muhammad) and (Ahmed) is last name.

The title page should:

- present an appropriate title of article
- list full names, affiliation, institutional and email addresses and phone numbers of all authors
- indicate the corresponding author

Abstract

The abstract of 150-200 words should briefly summarize the aim, findings or purpose of the article. Please minimize the use of abbreviations and avoid citing references in the abstract.

Keywords

Mention five to ten keywords representing the main content of the article.

Introduction

Introduction should explain the background to the study, its aims, a summary of the existing literature and why this study was necessary.

Discussion / Main Body

For the research articles this section should discuss the implications of the findings in context of existing research and highlight limitations of the study. For methodology manuscripts this section should include a discussion of any practical or operational issues involved in performing the study and any issues not covered in other sections.

For reviews this should contain the body of the article, and may also be broken into subsections with short, informative headings.

For case studies this should describe the pros and the cons of the intervention, with a realistic evaluation of its feasibility and effectiveness.

Conclusion / Results

This should clearly state the main conclusions and provide an explanation of their relevance or importance to the field.

If the paper is based on the case studies than conclusion should state what was learnt, what the next steps should be, and, if possible, what contingency planning may be required for those steps.
